CREATIVE BRAINS

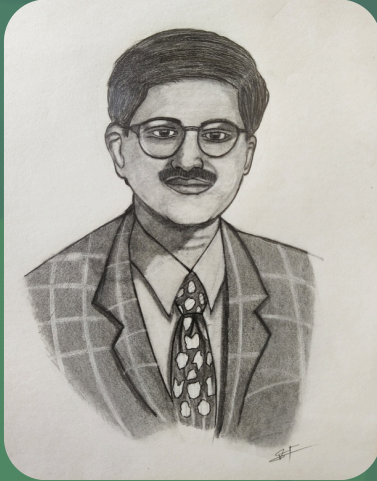

Freedom's Flame,
On this day, the dawn we claim,
With hearts that beat in freedom's name,
We rise as one, with voices clear,
To celebrate what we hold dear. Through battles fought and courage shown,
A nation's strength was truly grown,
From every hill, each valley wide,
We stand with pride, side by side. The stars above, the stripes we raise,
Tell stories of those brighter days,
When hope was born and chains were cast, In freedom's light, we hold fast. So let the echoes ring aloud,
In every city, every crowd,
For Independence, bold and bright,
Is the flame that guides our night.
