EVENT REPORT

On the 27th of March 2024, the Scientific Committee and Department of Prosthodontics in collaboration with the MGM DCH Alumni Association had organized a Hands on workshop on "Indirect Veneers laminates". The guest lecturer for this program was our very own illustrious alumna Dr. Saili Shah who has done her Masters in Prosthodontics and Implantology from MGM DCH Kamothe and has received All-on-four prosthetic certification from Anacapa Institute, Los Angeles, USA and maxillofacial prosthetic certification from King's College, U.K.

A brief introductory session was conducted by Dr. Chinmay Rao followed by which the speaker Dr. Saili Shah provided a comprehensive overview of the principles of smile design, patient evaluation, and treatment planning for achieving optimal aesthetic outcomes with veneers. Through case presentations and clinical demonstrations, attendees gained a deeper understanding of the various factors influencing veneer selection, preparation techniques, and bonding protocols.

The audience, comprising Interns and postgraduate students, actively engaged with the speaker through thought-provoking discussions and interactive sessions. Attendees had the opportunity to exchange ideas, share experiences, and seek clarification on specific topics related to indirect veneers.
